

Plan To Mark All Bikes So Seen In Dark

A safety program for bicycling boys and girls, the students of the Newmarket elementary schools, is being sponsored by the Newmarket Home and School Association. At present over 350 bikes are registered at the five schools. Before the end of June, each of these will be equipped with Scotchlite tape.

Scotchlite-a-bike program has only one objective, night-time safety for bicycling youngsters. Scotchlite safety strips—red strips for rear fenders and silver for the front fork and handlebars—become permanent parts of the bike once applied. They reflect auto headlights brilliantly at night, due to their coating of 30,000 microscopic glass spheres on a reflective plastic film.

The purpose of this Home and School project is to reduce accidents involving bicycles and to make bike-riding youngsters visible at night. In the spring and fall, when it becomes dark by supper-time, youngsters returning from choir practice, Guides, Scouts and other youth groups are a definite traffic hazard. By marking bicycles so that they can be seen by motorists from any angle or approach, the danger of such accidents is reduced.

The Home and School Association would appreciate it if parents whose children will receive Scotchlite tape would help to offset the expenses of this project by contributing 25 cents for each bike. Those who are unable to do so may contribute a smaller amount. The Home and School Association will cover the remaining costs of the project as well as for any child unable to contribute.

WINS OVER $1,000 IN DERBY SWEEPS

A visitor to Newmarket was one of the lucky ticket holders in the Derby sweeps yesterday. Mr. Alexander Gordon, who, with his wife, is visiting his son-in-law and daughter, Mr. and Mrs. J. C. Gladman, held a ticket on Cingo Claudius, 100 to 1 shot. He'll win over $1,000 as a result.

Mr. and Mrs. Gordon live at Canso, considered the most easterly part of the Canadian mainland where Mr. Gordon is assistant superintendent of the cable station there.

Full Insurance Gives Best Protection For Newmarket's Firemen

Newmarket volunteer firemen are adequately covered by insurance according to Mayor Joseph Vale. After a recent disastrous fire in Peterborough when firemen were killed and others injured, the mayor enquired about the insurance protection given to Newmarket firemen.

The insurance which the mayor said provided as full a coverage as can be obtained is based on a fixed earning capacity of $3,000 a year for each fireman. Compensation is determined by the Workmen's Compensation board.

In the event of death the annuity determined by the compensation board is based on the fixed earning capacity of $3,000 a year. If a fireman is injured at a fire or on his way to or from a fire, he is covered by the insurance no matter what accident he is involved in, the mayor said. Members of council are also insured. They are covered in case they are injured while going about duties concerned with municipal business. As an example, he said that a member of the property committee could be injured while inspecting work on a building under construction.

Members of the police force are also adequately insured, he said.

Break-ins At Loblaw's, Davis' On Sunday; Two Men Arrested

Newmarket police are investigating a break-in at Loblaw's store on Sunday when a safe was broken open. There was nothing in the safe and nothing was stolen from the store. Two Newmarket men have been arrested for breaking and entering the Davis residence on Second St., north of the Dixon Penell Co. plant.

Chief Constable Byron Burbridge, Newmarket, and Constable Ralph Fear, York County fingerprint expert have been investigating the Loblaw break-in. Constable Bill Hill found the back door at the store broken into while he was making his rounds at 9 o'clock on Sunday night.

A half hour earlier Miss Mabel Davis reported to police that she heard a window being smashed in the large old Davis home. When she went to see what it was, she said she saw two persons running away from the house. Nothing was stolen.

Charges of breaking and entering the Davis home have been laid against Jack Atwell, Timothy St. and Jack Newton, Eagle St. Both are on bail. Police are still working on the Loblaw break-in.

CONSIDER DISPOSAL OR RENTING FORMER TOWN CLERK'S BLDG.

The property committee of the Newmarket town council is to decide what will be done with the former clerk's office building on the corner of Main and Botsford Sts. The new town offices are in the renovated town hall building.

On Monday night the property chairman, Tom Birrell, asked council for some suggestions on what to do with the building. Mr. Birrell said it could be rented or sold or part of it could be sold. The rear section of the building on Botsford St. has office rooms and Women's Institute rest rooms.

Council made no suggestions and left the decision to the committee. Two members, Councillors Birrell and Dales, are on the committee. Their recommendation is expected to be before council shortly.

Many groups and organizations interested in conservation have purchased a planter. Mayor Declares War

Says York Policy Robs Ill Aged Of Pensions

Wilcox Child Dies Under Bread Truck

Evelynne (Lynne) Moore, aged two, Lake Wilcox, was instantly killed Monday noon when she was struck by a bread truck. Driver of the truck, Jan Smook, a native of Australia, told police he did not see the child and was unaware of the accident until he stopped at the next house. The accident occurred in Ash's Park and was seen by a neighbor who rushed out of her house to tell the driver he had run over the little girl.

Dr. Crawford Rose, Aurora, was called. He said the child was dead when he arrived.

The truck driver said he had parked his truck to make a delivery. He came out from a house moving ahead another 100'. The wheels of the vehicle passed over the child's head. Coroner G. W. Williams, Aurora, was called. An inquest will be held.

The child's father, an airman, was notified. He was rushed to his Lake Wilcox home by military authorities. A wave of sympathy spread over the district when the girl's death was known. Neighbors and friends rallied to comfort the sorrowing parents who have two children, a boy and a girl.

The funeral service was held from the Thompson Funeral Home on Wednesday afternoon conducted by Rev. Harvey Howey, Aurora. The child's remains were interred in Aurora cemetery.

Newmarket's mayor, Joseph Vale, is waging war on a county policy which deprives hospitalized old age pensioners of their $40 a month cheques. In a statement at town council meeting on Monday night the mayor said that pensioners' cheques are taken from them when they are in hospital to pay for their care; other indigent patients are not required to pay anything.

Drops Cracker In Gas Tank, Blast Hits Pal

"I lit the firecracker for him and he asked me what he should do with it. I told him to throw it away." But the firecracker was dropped into the empty gas tank of an old truck and the resultant explosion blew 12-year-old Ted McLennan several feet. He suffered brush burns but no other injury. The cab of the truck was badly damaged.

This accident occurred on the farm of George Keay, ten miles east of Aurora, on May 24. Three boys, Ted, 10-year-old Joe Hall, and Joe's older brother were lighting firecrackers at the rear of a garage.

Ted was sitting in the truck. When he lit Joe's firecracker, Joe dropped it in the tank and began to run. Joe's brother ran after him, but Ted, all unaware of the potential explosion, remained in the truck.

The blast from the tank, underneath the seat of the truck, ripped a huge hole in the seat and threw Ted several feet.

"It is an unfair practice and I want council and everyone to realize what is going on. I made mention of this two years ago and the policy is still being carried on. I am sure the practice is indefensible."

The mayor gave a typical example to back up his argument. He told of one woman an old age pensioner, who was in York county hospital from April 10 to April 18. He said that the county took $30.10 from her cheque and returned her $9.90.

"She was in hospital for only eight days and after her discharge, had only $9.90 to live on for the rest of the month." The mayor said that he had brought a similar case to the attention of county officials previously and he was told that it was a mistake. County officials stated that the pension cheque was only taken if the patient was hospitalized for more than 14 days.

"No matter how long they are in hospital, it is still unfair to the pensioners," said the mayor. "Other indigent patients who have been earning their own living but can't afford to pay hospitalization are not compelled to pay. I know that old age pensioners have been losing their cheques even when they are in hospital for a few days."

"What is a man's wife going to live on if her pensioned husband is forced to go into hospital?" he asked.

Mr. Vale explained that the hospital notifies the county when a pensioner enters hospital. The county then applies for the cheque from the department of health.

"If I had the time to do it, I would certainly go to the department in Ottawa and stir something up," he said. Reeve Arthur D. Evans suggested that it be brought up at the June sessions of county and added that something would be done about it.

The mayor said that he was on town council for several years before he realized that the county was confiscating cheques.

Tag Day Sat. Will Support Hospital Aid

A county-wide appeal for funds by the York County Hospital Women's Aid starts on Saturday, June 2, when tag days will be held in Newmarket, Roche's Point, Bradford, Sharon and King. During the summer months other districts will hold tag days.

These are the first tag days sponsored by the Hospital Aid since its re-organization in 1950. Headed by the ways and means convener, Mrs. J. C. R. Edwards, the tag days are part of an all-out financial campaign. Letters soliciting donations are being sent to organizations, individuals, business firms and industries. As part of the same project an afternoon tea was held by the Aurora members of the Hospital Aid at the home of Mrs. Crawford Rose on Wednesday.

To date over $1,400 raised through the Hospital Aid has been contributed to York County hospital for the purchase of surgical equipment and hospital supplies. More funds are needed if this work is to continue. York County Hospital, supervised by Miss L. Thomas, opens its doors to all residents within the county and is the only hospital in large district. The hospital is the concern of everyone within the northern section of York county who depend upon and benefit from it.

Show your interest in your hospital by supporting the June 2 tag days and by mailing your financial contribution to Mrs. Edwards.

On the committee responsible for this campaign are Mrs. Harry Fee, Mrs. Elman Campbell, Mrs. Alex McKay, Mrs. N. L. Mathews, Mrs. M. B. Seldon and the convener, Mrs. J. C. R. Edwards. Mrs. Rusty Rogers, Sharon, is president of the Hospital Aid.

HOSTESSES AT RALLY

The Newmarket Girl Guide company and Brownie pack will be hostesses on Saturday, June 9 to the York Division Girl Guide rally. The rally will be held at the Stuart Scott school grounds from 2 to 6 p.m. Welcoming the guides, brownies and their friends will be the mayor, Joseph Vale.

TROUT IN TOWN

County And Town Plan To Improve Water St.; Talk Srigley Paving

The county roads commission and the town of Newmarket are expected to make major improvements to Water St. from Main St. to Prospect St. On Monday night the town council approved of constructing curbs and gutters and a storm sewer on the Water St. hill near Prospect St. The county plans to resurface the street.

The county roads commission has been working on improvements at the junction of Water, Gorman and Prospect Sts. where an "island" has been constructed in the centre of the intersection. Engineer Donno Bosworth said that the county policy calls for a pavement 16' wide. He said he did not know whether the commission would widen the pavement to 22' or not. Cost to the town would be $9,500 or if the county paved the road 22' wide, it would be reduced to $6,500.

Councillor J. O. Dales said that property owners were enquiring about paving Srigley St. on the east side of town. The mayor said that home owners on the street would have to submit a petition to council if they wanted the street paved. It would be done under a local improvement plan.

Pavement of Newmarket streets is progressing rapidly. A long stretch of Niagara St. has been completed with curbs and gutters; Millard Ave. has been completed with curbs and gutters from Main to Church St. This week paving crews are working on the resurfacing of Millard west to Lorne Ave. without curbs and gutters.

GOING UP

Floodlights Fund $1,280

Going up! Going up! The campaign designed to install floodlights have been upped to $1,280, reports chairman Charles VanZant of the ways and means committee. There's an old saying that is as good today as it ever was: "Every little bit helps". So if you've a mind to hurry up the installation of lights, funds can be sent to treasurer Ken Flett at the Bank of Montreal and made out to "Newmarket Community Memorial Park", earmarked "Floodlight Fund". Application is now being made to make all donations income tax exempt.

New Rates of Fare INTERURBAN ROUTES

During the past ten years the cost of providing service has steadily increased, and for some time the present rates of fare have not provided sufficient amounts to meet expenses.

Bus passengers will readily understand that it is impossible, in the face of such rapidly rising costs, to maintain a high standard of service without an increase in fares.

Consequently, effective FRIDAY, JUNE 1st, a moderate upward adjustment will be made in all fares on Gray Coach Lines interurban routes.

Your continued support and goodwill will be appreciated and will ensure a continuance of the quality of service you desire.

Information regarding the new fares, including commuters' and scholars' rates will be available at your local agency after Wednesday, May 30th.

THE 24TH

says

What memories the magic words "24th of May" call up! So many times, over the radio again this year, you'd hear "The 24th of May is the Queen's birthday—if they don't give us a holiday we'll all run away," just exactly the same as we've said all these years.

The "24th" is very popular, for it is the earliest holiday we get out of doors. This year was an especially wonderful day. "Queen's weather" you'll hear old timers say, with memories of other 24ths when the weather was fine and warm, same as last week. And what a night for fireworks! Warm and no wind, weather exactly suited for celebrations along that line.

We older ones enjoy it as much as the younger generation. I do not think there is anyone who does not enjoy fireworks. Maybe not the noisy firecrackers, but those delightful "set" pieces—the Roman candles, the many-colored rockets, the fountain, the Katherine and the pin-wheel and the Pharaoh's serpents—and the "burning of the school house", as one kind is called. We had all those and no doubt more kinds as well, for I was at a fireworks party where several families had pooled their supplies—and I assure you the result was all that could have been desired. It was really delightful, and to see the children waving the sparklers and taking so much fun out of it, while the menfolk and older boys set off the large pieces. We are all young at heart that night when it grows dark enough for fireworks.

However, the small folk did not think much of having to go to school next day, but I do not think they minded, at the King George school, at any rate for, as we drove past in the car, we saw that they were having fire-drill. The gay red painted new fire truck and the firemen were all there and on both sides of the school the children were lying flat on their tummies on the grass as we drove along. I expect the upstairs scholars had come down the chute, the fire escape, what do you call it? Anyhow that big round galvanized pipe down the south side of the King George school! We just happened along at the right time to see the children lying on the grass and it recalled old-time fire-drills when I was in it, not watching others. How we all jumped when the fire gong went off! How we lined up and trotted down the stairs and out of doors. We thought it was fun, of course.

Tulip Time

The whole town is gay with tulips—I have seen so many lovely displays in every part of town. If you want to see folks' gardens just take a ride round town on the local bus, for it covers so many streets, and you will see tulips in many, many gardens. One garden I saw that is not passed by the bus—a garden away on Niagara St. north of Davis Dr., that Mr. Orley Hayes of the Horticultural Society has rented—it was full of multi-colored tulips—tulips of every shade and color; and he had still more at his home. Tulips are so satisfactory and make such a wonderful show. I hope to see Mr. and Mrs. Kidd's garden over the weekend.

Did you ever see a squirrel jump up to the edge of a bird bath and have a drink? I never did till this year, though I expect they have been doing it right along. They are nimble little creatures. One day the sparrows chased away a squirrel having a drink; no doubt the squirrel had been annoying them or may have even robbed the nest, for this is the season for baby birds. We have as usual our family of robins and how the baby robins do squawk and the parent birds are so worried and anxious! The blackbirds are a continued menace round here and Mr. and Mrs. Robin have many a fight with them.

My neighbor saw a blackbird attack a baby sparrow the other day and it defied her, as bold as could be, when she attempted to drive it off. It came back and finished off the tiny birdling before she could intervene again.

But oh, watch out for caterpillars. I found several nests on my choke-cherry tree, but they were tiny ones and I burned them in the fire tin before they had started on the cherry tree. I watch that tree every day for fear more will develop or come "marching" in from somewhere else.

Another neighbor had a queer experience. Her doorbell rang and it was some small boys who told her she'd better watch out for her tree the caterpillars were after it. They took her out to see—and sure enough there were caterpillars on the march—mak-

JACK SMITH WRITES

Ottawa Letter

A weekly letter from the member of parliament for York North.

For many years Britain has had its No. 10 Downing St., and our American neighbors have had the White House. Both have been closely associated with the history and tradition of these countries and occupied a centre-of-the-stage place in their national life.

Now for the first time Canada has a comparable institution in No. 24 Sussex Street, Ottawa, the official residence of the Prime Minister.

A beautiful residence located on the high banks of the Ottawa River and surrounded by landscaped grounds has been purchased by the people of Canada and remodelled and furnished as an official residence for the country's Prime Minister.

Prime Minister and Mrs. St. Laurent recently moved in as the first occupants of No. 24 Sussex Street.

Last week the Prime Minister and his charming wife held their first reception in the official residence and had as guests members of the Senate and the House of Commons and their wives.

The new official residence is an imposing looking large stone structure with spacious lawns and a very beautiful view overlooking the picturesque Ottawa River.

The reception was quite informal and featured by the warm hospitality for which the Prime Minister and his wife are noted. The home is spacious and well furnished but while the furnishings are good they could not be termed loud or lavish and everything seemed in excellent taste. It is a fitting home for Canada's first minister and will fill a long-felt need in our national life.

Old Age Pensions

Revision of Canada's old age pension legislation is now almost a certainty for this year. Provincial representatives conferred with federal cabinet ministers and officials last week ironing out the details of the new plan. The universal pension for all at age 70 will be on a contributory basis. Just how the contributions will be collected is a matter which is receiving intensive study at the moment and it will take some time to work out the details.

The pensions for those in the age group 65-70 will still be based on the need of individuals.

World Situation

The international situation continues to occupy the centre of real concern here, and there is no use kidding ourselves that it is not serious. Speaking in Ottawa on Citizenship Day, the Prime Minister said "I am still hopeful we will have peace". In the same address to some 150 visiting high school students he told them that if we could just maintain peace they would see even greater and more wonderful development in Canada than he had seen in his lifetime.

Foreign Minister Pearson told us this week that undoubtedly Iran ranked next to Korea as the trouble spot of the world, and that it would be too bad if Iranian oil was lost to the western democracies and worse if it went to "other countries."

Turnover Tax

There has been much said and written about the suggested provincial sales or turn-over tax. It has been suggested that the Dominion government might seek a constitutional amendment to provide for such a tax. I see no need for alarm regarding such a possibility and any such action seems highly improbable. Request for such an amendment would first require the unanimous consent of the provinces, and no such unanimous consent would appear likely. To the many who write me regarding this matter I suggest that the prospects for such objectionable tax ever being imposed are at the moment very slight.

120 Girls Take Part In Achievement Day For York Homemakers

The annual Achievement Day for the Homemaking clubs in York County was held in the town hall, Newmarket, on Saturday. One hundred and twenty girls from all parts of the county participated in the judging and activities during the morning.

The girls, all between the ages of 12 and 26, have just completed the Homemaking club units, "The Milky Way" and "Working with Wool", sponsored by the Women's Institute branch, department of agriculture. During the winter months club meetings have been held in the Belhaven, Buttonville, Elder's Mill, Maple, Pine Orchard, Queensville, Temperanceville, Thistleton, Union Street, Unionville, Vellore and Virginia communities and at these meetings the girls have learned about the value of milk in the diet, how to keep it clean and safe, and how to serve it in many attractive ways; and about wool and the properties that make it one of our favorite fabrics, and have made a wool skirt or jumper for themselves. Their record books of these club meetings, their skirts and their baked custards were on exhibit in the hall.

During the afternoon each club exhibited a phase of their club work and gave a demonstration on the value, care and uses of milk or wool. They also decided that the units to be taken for next year would be "Cottons May Be Smart" and "The Club Girl Stands on Guard".

A special Homemaking club spoon will be presented to each girl who has successfully completed a unit. To every girl who completed two units, a certificate of achievement was given. On completion of six of these units, a county honor pin and certificate are awarded. Beth Johnston, Pine Orchard; Marjorie Grimley, Vellore; Dorothy Miles, Gladys Gingell, Unionville; Jean Brumwell, Isobel Hood, Cora Brodie, Buttonville; Donna Batt, Queensville; Muriel Willoughby, Audene Kydd, Belhaven; and Freda Bosworth, Union Street, received their pins during the afternoon program.

Provincial honors certificates and pins, representing the completion of 12 Homemaking club units, were awarded to Mrs. Marguerite Johnson, Cedar Valley; Mrs. Marg Couperthwaite, Mrs. Marj Harrington, Unionville. A special certificate was awarded to Mrs. I. Rose, local leader for the Union Street club, on the completion of five years as a club leader. The girls showed their appreciation for the time and effort Mrs. Rose, and the leaders of all the clubs, have put into the work.

During the Junior Farmers' banquet in the evening the following awards were announced: Downtown Kiwanis club foods scholarship, Moira Gill, Thistleton; Downtown Kiwanis club clothing scholarship, Evelyn Hare, Vellore; province of Ontario savings office trophy, for percentage completion and quality of club work, Buttonville club, led by Mrs. F. W. Baker with honorable mention to Temperanceville club, led by Mrs. E. Phillips;

The A. J. H. Eckardt memorial trophy for outstanding club work, Aileen Easton, Buttonville. A bus trip for consistently good work as a club member, Marion Eves. This year's winner of the coveted trip is a leader as well as a member of the Queensville club.

Any communities interested in organizing local clubs in the fall for the unit, "Cottons May Be Smart", should contact the home economist, department of agriculture, Newmarket, for further information. Assisting Miss Ruth Hunt, the home economist for York, Halton and Peel counties in conducting this achievement day were Miss Ruth Shaver, home economist for Ontario and Simcoe counties; Miss Doreen Kelly, home economist for Elgin, Kent and Essex counties; Miss Lulu Row, home economist in clothing and Mrs. Marion Montgomery, Toronto office of the Women's Institute branch.

ing straight for her big maple! She got broom and dust pan and soon accounted for that "regiment". She said they were marching in perfect formation. This must be "caterpillar year". Our trees must suffer physically from an attack I feel sure, so let us do what we can individually, even if it makes us shudder! How women do hate creeping things!

That recalls the item of news a week or so ago when a woman put her hand under the hen to get the egg she judged it had just laid and was bitten by a rattlesnake. That was worse than the woman, also gathering eggs, who put her hand into the nest, under the hen and up bobbed a skunk! It also was waiting for "Biddy" to lay an egg! I wonder which of them did finally get that egg?

NEWS OF THE INDIANS
ON GEORGINA ISLAND
By BILL RIDDELL

Last Saturday, we had an interesting talk with Bill Asquabe, who is sometimes called Georgina Island's "Almanac". Mr. Asquabe, large as life, claims to have had a very good winter. About a week ago, he went fishing, first time in over 30 years, and he caught a fish, "Oh, about this long," stretching his arms full-length.

He tells us that he caught it early in the morning, employing something which he called silver-spoon tackle. "It was good, too," he said.

We tried to find out Mr. Asquabe's opinion of tourists, but he wouldn't commit himself. He did, however, tell us something about guiding. He was a guide for one summer, but he hated rowing so much that he never tried it again.

"Modern guides have an easy life," he said. "About the only thing that could happen to lessen their fun would be for their motor boat to stall, and that is very

The exclamation point is gradually going out of use. People aren't surprised at anything any more.

In 1951 the Canadian dollar has about one-third of its 1901 buying power; in the same period hourly wage rates have multiplied by five.

9TH DECENNIAL CENSUS JUNE, 1951

The rainy spring has left a legacy of mosquitoes. We can't recall them ever being so numerous at this time of year. And for all we know, the weather has encouraged the plague of tent caterpillars currently munching the leaves off our trees. Was there ever a more noisome pest?

The shreds they spin in the trees are bitter fruit indeed. They tell us that up north, they are stripping poplars and birch, that their numbers are so great that spraying from the air has had little check on their destruction. We've loaded our spray gun with lead arsenate and the spraying will be a chore we'll enjoy. The sight of them gives us the jitters.

Whether the weather can be blamed for the fix of a dairy farmer on the third of East Gwillimbury we don't know, but this has been an unusual spring and his sad tale is appropriate to the season.

He has been trying to increase his herd and placed great store in his spring crop of calves. But when they began coming, they were all bull calves. That farmer had 12 or 13 bull calves in succession before he got a heifer. Something of a record, we suppose, but hardly one to give joy.

And then his neighbor across the road announced last week the birth of twin bull calves.

There are not many who can read their obituary but Bill Foote on R. R. 3, had that experience. The story came out on the weekend when Mr. Foote attended a reunion on Friday night of the 48th Highlanders of Canada. The occasion was the Diamond Jubilee of the Highlanders.

In a casualty report late in November, 1918, Pte. Wm. Foote was listed as having died of wounds. Pte. Foote was wounded, sure enough. He caught a burst of machine gun fire in the back at Mons the day before Armistice. His shell hole mate, Pte. "Big Jim" Fleming, was sure he'd had it. And there was the casualty list to prove it.

But when "Big Jim" walked into the armories in Toronto on Friday night, there was Mr. Foote, as large as life and a grin to match. "I thought you were dead, Bill, so help me; until I walked in here tonight, I thought you were dead," he cried.

"I was dead. I am not supposed to be here," grinned Bill. And he drew from his pocket a yellowed newspaper clipping of the casualty list.

The lights of the cars on Yonge St. north of Newmarket on a Sunday night are a pretty sight, like an endless string of pearls, north from Eagle St., winding down over the hill onto the flats. Average speed around 7 p.m. was ten or 15 miles an hour. Sometimes the line was solid as far as eye could see towards Bradford.

The spotlight at Eagle St. slowed them down while lake traffic moved on to the highway, but it seems to us that with a little foresight, much of the jam could be prevented. There is room on the shoulders of the highway now to widen it. Yonge St. gets a little work on it nowadays with every effort being made to complete the new Barrie-Toronto road, but it would be a major convenience if the shoulders were made usable, even if given only a temporary covering.

And from the looks of things, it is going to be a long time yet before that new highway is usable.

THURSDAY, THE THIRTY-FIRST DAY OF MAY, NINETEEN HUNDRED AND FIFTY-ONE

CONDITION OF TOWNSHIP ROADS

Scarcely more than four or five weeks ago, many township roads were impassable because of mud and holes. Now they are just as hazardous because of dust. The weather is at fault in both instances. But while admitting this, we can see no excuse for permitting such heavily travelled roads as the townline east and west of Yonge St., the Sharon sideroad, and several north-south concessions to lapse into their present state.

We recognize the strain the spring has placed upon men and equipment. We know as well as the next man that the weather is something over which no road superintendent has control. And no doubt, there are what appear to be acceptable reasons why the roads haven't been oiled.

But all of this adds up to exactly nothing when a motorist must drive in a hazardous dust fog on main township roads, or when the houses by the roadside are shrouded in a constant dust pall.

The impression is strong that township road departments either are unable to cope with emergency situations or else, conditioned by other years, are still maintaining an easy-going pace despite the emergency. Or finally, the township budgets simply do not provide enough money to maintain the necessary crews. Whatever the cause it simply does not excuse the state of township roads.

SHARON A LOVELY SIGHT

The village of Sharon is a lovely sight. Its lawns and gardens are neat and colorful. Its homes are shining in new paint. Its beauty is not all physical. There is a quiet and peaceful atmosphere; a sense of unhurried enjoyment of life. Even the casual traveller feels it as he passes the length of the village. The old Temple, bright in new white paint and green trim, is like a beacon against the fresh green of the countryside.

If there is any fault to be found with the village, it is its location. The highway to Lake Simcoe passes through it and on the weekend, the sound of the birds is drowned out by the constant sing of tires on a tar road and the gunning of overheated motors. What a feast of the eyes and spirit these holiday seekers miss in their heedless rush to the lake. We can understand their haste to quit the city. Who wouldn't? But in their anxiety to reach their cottages, they miss so much which would refresh them.

Actually the village has a 30-mile speed limit but it is ignored. So it is with Queensville and other 30-mile sections on holiday highways. These centres offer the hospitality of the quiet life, a glimpse of a security no city dweller knows. How reprehensible for the hasty ones to spurn the invitation; to be so graceless as to speed by, in defiance to the law and common sense, at highway speeds.

They are truly penalized. In their blindness to the beauty they pass by, they have lost far more than all the fines they will ever pay.

TAKING THE CITY WAY

Some weeks ago, we published in these columns the gist of a brief presented by the Canadian Weekly Newspapers Association to the cabinet. The brief charged that the monopolistic, highly organized practices of the cities were imposing unfair economical burdens upon the countryside. It is the cities which set the prices, which dictate the conditions of marketing, which rule the political roost. It is the unorganized, independent and small businesses and farmers who pay the shot. Last week's development in the milk producers' attempts to get a fair price is an example of what is happening to country ways under the impact of the cities. The producers voted to ask for a milk marketing agency. Such an agency would extend farm control over the product, but at a cost in the independence of the producer. Such a step is contrary to rural tradition. But what alternative is there if the farmer is to get the price he has earned?

The milk issue is, in many ways, an example of how the cities have established a control over political and economic influences without regard to the rights of the producer. The dairy employees would have no job without the producers, but because they wanted an increase in wages, they were able to disrupt the whole process of marketing milk at a cost to the producer which is still being paid. A Toronto newspaper says that the milk control board's task is to hold down the price to the consumer when the board was established in the first place at the instance of the producers to guarantee them fair prices. The political appointee to that board, Mayor McCallum, makes a public statement, even before all the evidence is heard, that he doesn't think there will be increased prices.

All of this adds up to one conclusion: that if the producer is to earn a fair return for his produce, he must forfeit his independence and adopt the "city" way or organization and pressure. What a commentary of the age is such a choice!

MORE PUBLICITY FOR FARMER

A demand that the executive of the Toronto Milk Producers take measures to publicize the farmers' story was heard again at a meeting of the producers at Sharon last week. The same producers had passed such a resolution earlier in the year but it was rejected by the directors.

The local producers contend that the farmer has a story to tell of rising costs which must be compensated for by higher returns for their milk. The milk producers are asking $5.71 a cwt. for their milk compared to the present $4.20. According to a Royal Commission report, which has been brought up to date, the price is a fair one. But, say the local producers, there has been so much politics with milk, so much claim and counter-claim, that the public has completely lost sight of the elementary facts of farm costs. And until the public is informed, there will be no understanding of farm problems, much less acceptance of farm demands for increased returns. Without such public acceptance, the farmer is always going to get the left-overs instead of the price he is entitled to as the primary producer.

Take, for example, the recent editorial in the Globe and Mail which scolded the milk control board for arguing over a price differential between milk sold in stores and milk sold by delivery. The editorial contended the board should set the lowest price possible and let the delivery price settle of its own accord. The whole tone of the editorial was that the board's only reason for existence was to protect the consumer. And this misleading contention went unchallenged. The fact is that the board is set up to arbitrate on behalf of all parties, not just the consumer, but that fact was ignored.

Such mischievous editorializing doesn't help the farmers' cause but the damage could be repaired if the farmers themselves properly publicized their problems. No one else is going to do it for them, and until they do, they are losing public support.

INSTITUTES AND HISTORY

The Women's Institute has done much to keep alive an interest in local history. Each year, the individual branches appoint a convener for historical research. Recently, the branches have been engaged in a continuing project, The Tweedsmuir Book, in which is recorded histories of the branches' home localities, histories of nearby farms, and odds and ends of local interest.

Now the branches in York County are carrying their activities into a larger sphere with the sharing of the efforts of the York Pioneer and Historical Society. This happy combination has come about as a result of a recent conference of institute conveners and will show tangible results in the sharing of the annual picnic of the Association at Sharon Temple grounds on June 6.

How important the keeping alive of local history is was stressed at considerable length at the conveners' conference. Mr. W. H. Cranston, editor of the Midland Free Press Herald, pointed out that rural people generally have failed to "sell" themselves and their children on the importance of their own industry. Interest in local history is one of the surest ways of accomplishing this.

"How many of us and how many of our children know the history of the plow, the harrow, the threshing machine, the grist mill?" he asked. "And not only since the industrial revolution but through the centuries from the stone age to 1951, how many of you have seen in picture, in scale model, or better still through the actual tools and implements on display in local museums, the story of our agricultural industry through the ages? How many of your children, the boys and girls whom you hope will some day take over the family farm, have had such an opportunity to learn of the general evolution of the tools and implements they use today?"

"That they should have, we all admit. That this is part of basic education in town and country even our professional educators have come to acknowledge."

The members of the Institutes have at their fingertips the knowledge and tradition of their countryside. They can spread that knowledge better, perhaps, than any other organization in the country. It is a challenge that is worthy of their abilities.

Office Cat Reports Catnips By Ginger

This correspondent feels that there is not enough written about the farm these days. What should we give more importance to than the farmer? After all that's where our bread comes from, the farm.

You may not agree with me. You will see below a column devoted to the farm which appears every week. Milk producers get headlines often. We hear a lot about the wheat deal. Even city slickers get in on the writing sometimes about the farmer. We see that a guest artist in the Top Six Inches is writing his opinions about the farm this week. Oh where can Dairy Farmer be? Bring him back, oh bring back Dairy Farmer!

On being interested in giving the farmer more publicity than he gets, I interviewed two or three of East Thimbleberry farmers in the Cuttin Corners district last week.

The first Thimbleberry farmer I interviewed was one of the prosperous farmers in the district, by the name of Horace Theever, the first owners of blooded stock around Cuttin Corners.

"Mr. Theever," I said, "I am making a survey of farmers in the district to find out what makes them stay on the farm. The first question I would like to ask you is, to what do you attribute your success as a farmer?"

"Oh, dunno."

"Well, ah, do you feel in your bones that the farmer is here to stay?"

"Oh, yep."

"Well, would you tell us in your own words, whether the average city dweller appreciates the economic problems that the average farmer finds in his connection with the rural and the urban economy? In your own words, now, tell us whether he appreciates these problems."

"None."

"I see," said I. "As a matter of fact I have found that most farmers have that same definite opinion. And I am certainly happy to find that you have decided and clear-cut opinions on the subject. Just one more question, Mr. Theever, among the Top Six Inches and others, what is your favorite newspaper column on the farm?"

"Cain't read."

East Thimbleberry township is a great agricultural township. Many things are produced there such as milk, pigs, wheat, ducks, cows, buckwheat cakes and thimbleberry pie. There are so many good things in East Thimbleberry. It reminds me of the following short poem by Robert Louis Stevenson:

Happy Thought
The world is so full of a number of things
I'm sure we should all be as happy as kings.

That is exactly how Mrs. Fannie Forum feels about life. She can make the best thimbleberry pie to win first prize at every baking contest at the annual Cuttin Corners Horse Show and Thimbleberry Fair. Mrs. Fannie Forum is president of the district Better Farm Wives for the Farm Association.

Mrs. Forum believes in the slogan of the district, "Farming is a way of life."

With Mrs. Forum I asked, "What do you think that the best way is to keep the children interested in staying on the farm?"

"I think it is up to the women of the farm because where would the farm be without the women?"

"Thank you, Mrs. Fannie Forum."

by "Dairy Farmer" The Top Six Inches

"Dairy Farmer" was unable to send in his regular column this week. In his place is the following, contributed by a district farmer who looks at the city—and wonders—the editor.

There was a time when the country people held a political balance of power. There was enough of them so that the farm vote really meant something, and was a compensating factor in the jobbing the farmer sometimes got in the city market place.

It is hard to accept but the plain fact nowadays is that the farm vote means very little.

And by farm vote, we are including the votes of the people who live in the country towns; everybody, in fact, who lives outside the cities. The dominion bureau of statistics will confirm this, but if you have any doubt about the decline of the rural political influence, take a look at some of the legislation that has been passed lately, or all the talk about security and pensions. It is not coming from the country. It is coming from the cities and because there are more people in the cities than outside them, that legislation is going through—at the expense of the rural people.

In a way, you can hardly blame the city people for their concern with "security." A large proportion of them don't have anything more than the clothes they wear and the furniture they put in their homes. They haven't gardens where they can raise their own food—they wouldn't know how anyway. They're completely dependent upon the services that someone else sells them. If one plant in the city shuts down, thousands of them are thrown out of work, and because most of them are specialists, they have a tough time finding another job. And you get hungry awfully fast in the city if you've got to buy all your food and you haven't the money.

All these things are evident to the farmer when his city kin visit him and we all have a chuckle at their ignorance. But that ignorance, and the kind of life they lead, is costing the country folk more dollars than they can afford to pay in the taxes which underwrite "security" for the cities.

We don't suggest that we leave them to starve if anything goes wrong. We'll feel the pinch too because they buy our produce and they won't buy much if they are broke. But how long can we afford to subsidize them? That's the big question and so far, we haven't heard the answer.

In fact, why should it be necessary to subsidize them with cash when we could have the same results in another way? If a man has his own house and a bit of land, maybe a hog and a few chickens, that man is far more self-sufficient than his brother cooped in an apartment and growing a couple of plants in a flower box.

The first man is not voting for "security," he's got it or at least as much of it as we'll ever have while we're living. If he turns his hand to a few chores, he picks up a knack of doing things he'll never get simply screwing a bolt on an assembly line.

Alright. There is plenty of land in Canada. If there is one thing we've got, it is space. Instead of jamming all these people into apartment blocks, why not spread them over that space, give them room to breathe, to develop in short, to find their own security instead of yelling for someone else to provide it for them.

There's the only workable answer. Spread out the population. Disperse our industry. Sure, it'll cost a bit of money to do it, and it can't be done overnight, but it's a lot better than paying more and more taxes every year.

Ask any industry which comes to a small town how they like it, and they'll say that their employees are happier, and their work is better.

But as long as they keep pouring into the cities, the city folk are going to need someone to underwrite their "security" since they can't do it themselves and it's going to be the country folk who'll have to pay the shot. —Worried.

Oak Ridges News

MRS. LAURA ROLLING, CORRESPONDENT, PHONE KING 8

The amalgamation of Oak Ridges and Lake Wilcox Ratepayers' Association with Lake Wilcox recreation organization was approved at a meeting of groups on May 24. The union will combine a membership of the two organizations whose objects and aims are based on community betterment. It was agreed that the community hall, the property of the lake organization, would be in use for meetings or recreation purposes throughout the year. The appointment of trustees will be made in June.

Dance Highly Praised

A public dance sponsored by Oak Ridges and Lake Wilcox Ratepayers' Association held in the community hall May 26 was acclaimed the finest social event in years, when 250 patrons were enthusiastic in commenting on the orderly conduct of the dance. Kit Carson and his Trail Blazers made a hit as a dance band. Councillor E. L. McCarron, president of the association, welcomed the gathering and spoke of the union of two community organizations as a step forward. While expenses of the dance were relatively high as a first for the ratepayers, a substantial profit was realized. "The committee in charge appreciates the support and also the co-operation of the provincial police in supervising the event," said William Hope, chairman. Those who assisted him were George Gourlay, D. E. Cook, Wm. Good, Mr. and Mrs. W. Borden, Mr. and Mrs. Ernie Seal. A second dance will be held this coming Saturday night with the same dance band.

Appreciation is extended to Mr. and Mrs. F. Mitchell who operated the refreshment booth, a Richmond Hill florist for a donation of roses, Cousins' Dairy of Aurora and the donor of a box of chocolates. Mrs. Thos. Maguire was the lucky winner of a bouquet of roses and a basket of groceries.

Hall for School

The use of Lake Wilcox Community Hall appears to be the only solution in providing accommodation for nearly 200 school children this coming fall term. The offer was made by Lake Wilcox Recreation Association to rent the building for school purposes for a period of five years, A. E. Patchell, chairman of S. S. 13 trustee board, stated. The decision of the association was unanimous after the delay of acquiring a school site became acute.

It has been suggested the hall could be winterized and divided into three classrooms with portable walls and blackboards. With the acquisition of the adjacent school site two additional portable classrooms could be erected to extend accommodation. At an estimated cost of $5,000, it was felt the arrangement would be satisfactory until a more permanent building was erected. O. M. McKillop, public school inspector, said the proposed arrangement would no doubt meet with the approval of the department of education. Mr. Patchell will call a meeting of the school board to consider the matter.

Accommodation for the Lake children in Oak Ridges school could not be assured by Oak Ridges school board after the close of the present term, as that section will likely have a full enrolment of pupils by next September. It is costing S. S. 13, Whitechurch, $14.50 for each child per month for education at the Yonge S. school. With the formation of the lake section last fall, to take care of the growing population of school children, the selection of a site and provision of classrooms has been under constant consideration.

IT'S NO JOKE!

Every year, tree roots clog thousands of house sewer lines. Refuse backs up into the house and pipes have to be cleaned out... even dug up and replaced.

To protect home-owners from this trouble, we install Transite House Connection Pipe - the white pipe that's engineered by Johns-Manville to prevent root clogging. Each joint is securely encased in durable asbestos-cement Transite to keep roots out!

We're specialists in house sewer line work. If you're planning on a new house sewer, let us tell you. Pipe can help you avoid future headaches and expense. Phone for an estimate today.

IF YOU have the urge to go through your home from attic to basement with soap and water, polish and brush—then the homemaker's equivalent of your finished work is ready.

Cleaning, rearranged your furniture and added new life to your rooms in the form of curtains, draperies and slipcovers.

Lighting is a significant part of your room decoration. Through correct lighting your color scheme will come alive at night instead of sinking into a dead monotone. The addition of an attractive lamp that fits in with your room's decorating scheme can give an entirely new appeal to your room.

Pictures enable your room to express personality. That's one reason why you should choose scenes that you will enjoy looking at. Pictures are a matter of personal taste. In choosing a frame remember that the picture must be dominant, not the frame. The width of the frame depends upon the location of the picture on the wall. The way you hang a picture is very important because if a picture is worthy of gracing your wall it deserves proper attention to good hanging. Hang your picture against the wall. Tilt it is definitely out of the hanging. There are looks to support any weight adequately.

Lacy crocheted accessories lend elegance and add fresh beauty to your home. Many hand-crocheted pieces become family heirlooms as you no doubt know. Bedspreads and tablecloths, which require so much work, are worth every minute of the time you spend on them. Nothing can replace a lovely lace cloth or spread that has been hand-crocheted. The lacy cloth pictured above, unlike the usual crocheted tablecloth of white or ecru, follows the modern theme and blossoms forth in a variety of pretty self-shading colors. The predominating shade is then picked up by the use of solid-color napkins. An attractive idea, don't you think? It won't require quite so many launderings as your plain white one, either.

runner-up slot. In mixed, Barney Revell's team took like shoos with a 400-pin lead to carry into the second round.

Optimist Teams Take Two Games at Brampton

Newmarket Optimist bantam and pee-wee baseballers are off on the right foot. Saturday Frank Hollingsworth took the future O.B.A. crews to Brampton for a twin bill exhibition. It was a win in both heats for the locals.

The bantams, behind the steady pitching of Jackie Mills, first time on the hill, forged a 10-2 victory. A big second frame for four runs gave them a lead they never let go.

The pee-wees also went for a ten-run ride to out-slug their Brampton opponents 10-4. Jack Cain chalked up an impressive mid-season strike-out record. Bro. Bill kept him out of trouble with a nifty snatch of a liner.

15 A.H.S. COUPLES VISIT THE FALLS

Fifteen couples from Aurora high school went by bus to Niagara Falls on Sunday to see the sights. They climbed the spiral staircase at Brock's monument. Some of them took the cable car over the whirlpool and rapids. They lunched on the Canadian side and walked the bridge to the American side, shopping and going to a show. What interested them was the brightly lighted stores open for business on the U.S. side. They heard the old Canadian bells ringing and saw the illumination of the falls by night.

On the way home, a flat tire caused a half an hour's delay. Their full day was approximately 17 hours. Those on the trip were: Mary Scott and Frank Harrison, Betty Scott and Chris Johnson, Shirley Rawlings and Bobbs Cook, Freda Dent and John Richards, Florence King and Andy Closs, Rena Marshall and Lyn Easterbrook, Betty Holman and John Langdon, Gail Woolnough and Bill McGirr, Joan Reid and Ross Rawlings, Arlene Morrison and Thomas Humes, Peggy Jones and George Hately, Joan Stevenson and Bruce Norman, Gladys Middleton and Lionel Stevenson, Margaret Bull and Doug Specht, Barbara McGirr and John Hepple.

IT'S A Woman's World

By CAROLINE ION

For 27 adults from York North, last week was back-to-school. For four days grey heads and brown heads of urban and rural residents were bent over their desks as the enumeration manual for the ninth census of Canada was studied.

Following the passing of an intelligence and general knowledge test they had been appointed as enumerators for the 1951 census. After taking the oath of secrecy, the prospective enumerators got down to the serious business of preparing to take the local census. This will begin on Friday, June 1.

Not only must they be ready to collect information in confidence, but enumerators must be thoroughly familiar with the many forms and papers they will use in the course of their duties. They must be able to help in making this "national inventory" accurate so that it will be useful for the benefit of all. It was pointed out that if each of the 18,000 enumerators were to miss only one person in his territory, a population equal to that of Chatham, Lethbridge or Brandon would be dropped out of the total.

Enumerators will carry an identification card. For Newmarket the enumerators are Mrs. Jos. Greer, Mrs. B. L. Sinclair, Harvey McCordick and myself. The remainder of "our school-mates" handle the other urban and the rural areas of York North with Fred Hare, Temperanceville, as field supervisor.

Information collected by the census enumerators by law can not be disclosed to other government agencies, such as income tax, national defence or to any private organization. Census enumerators are collecting statistics about individuals in order to total statistics.

The fact that Mrs. John Jones, 16 Market St., is of Icelandic origin or lives in a brick veneer house is of no personal interest to the census enumerators or the department of statistics, but those questions are being asked of other Canadian householders and a composite picture of our population will result. Before tabulating the results of the forms completed by the enumerators, the individual's name is removed.

Some of the questions particularly stressed in the population form relate to place of birth, origin, occupation, salary and age. In the case of the birth-places, if the person was born outside Canada the country of birth is marked as it is now constituted. This rule has particular bearing for persons born in certain parts of Continental Europe in which there have been recent changes in national boundaries. If the person is uncertain of this he should give the province or district in which he was born—as Alsace-Lorraine; or the nearest city—as Warsaw.

In the case of origin, for census purposes a person's origin is traced through his father. It can be most easily established by determining the language which the person or his parental ancestors spoke on first coming to Canada.

In the case of occupation, it is necessary to know in detail the name of the firm or business, the type of business or industry and the actual work done by the person. For example, it would be wholesale grocery, retail hardware or dairy farming and not just grocery, hardware or farming. Specific terms must be used in describing the person's occupation. It is not sufficient to merely list clerk as the occupation. It must be qualified such as file clerk, time clerk, typist, bookkeeper, etc.

In the question on salary, broad groupings of $500 are all that are necessary. Income from investments, unemployment insurance benefits, workmen's compensation, etc., is not included.

Life insurance premium tables are based on the ages of the Canadian people as recorded in the census. Over the past 70 years, the average Canadian life-span has increased making it necessary at every census to ask "what is your age?"

If householders are ready with the information necessary for the census-taking; if they realize the great importance of accuracy in reporting their answers and if they remember that the census is not concerned with each man or woman as an individual, but is interested in total statistics, then this job of making an inventory of the Canadian people will be done more efficiently and accurately.

On Thursday the girls finished bowling for the Herman Benitz trophy. Myrtle Dunn was the winner.

Formerly Of Pine Orchard Mrs. Jas. Harper 90 Years

On Wednesday, one of Stouffville's oldest residents, Mrs. James Harper, celebrated her 90th birthday. Born in Scotland in the year 1861 Mrs. Harper attended public school there until coming across to Canada at the age of eight years old.

She remembers well the long trip across which in those days took several weeks. Her father made the trip three weeks before while she was accompanied by her mother and sister. At the age of nine her mother died and three years later her father passed away. Mrs. Harper married and settled at Ringwood for a time, also residing in Toronto for a few years.

For the past 30 years Mrs. Harper has lived with her son and daughter-in-law, Mr. and Mrs. Leslie Harper, Pine Orchard. Last February she moved to Stouffville to live with her daughter Mrs. Douglas Booth.

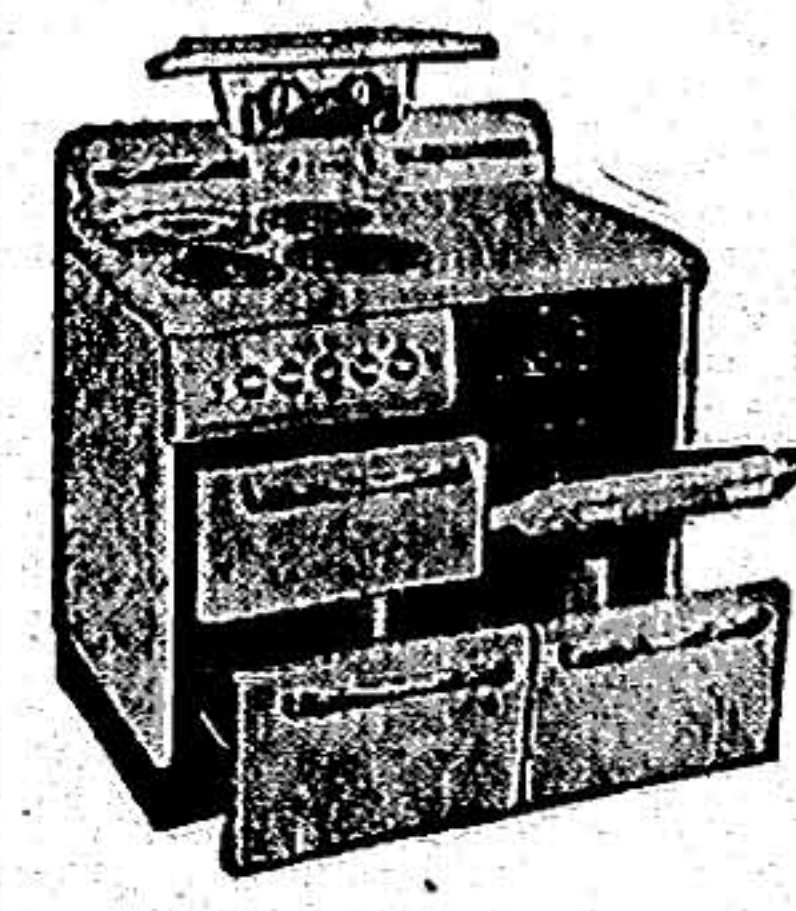

For the last ten to 17 years Mrs. Harper has been without her eyesight so the present to her isn't as clear as the days of her childhood. The public school that Mrs. Harper attended was an up-to-date room, compared to some of the other schools of that day. There were no long tables like some of our forefathers used and carved their initials and the teacher wasn't grim-faced, with a birch bark rod held high. The pupils sat at separate desks and had a polite easy going teacher who was considerate of the pupils at all times. The room was heated with two stoves, one at each end of the class.

Her husband passed away some six years ago, after he had also reached the age of 90. Gra-

HASH

BY GEORGE HASKETT
Newmarket Sports Editor

My, my! Such a busy week N.H.S. Eckhardt and Pickering College track and field events and softball openers. Quite a show those brawny lads and fleet lassies from Aurora put on as they rolled over Newmarket and Richmond Hill. Aurora swept the board, taking all championships.

Amazing feat too as coach Frank Gregoire had only eight days to train his charges. Fred Speer had good and kindly words to say about the great assistance from all sections as the meet rolled off without a hitch.

It was also a pleasure to make the annual trek to Pickering College for their annual Sports Day. Athletic director C. R. "Blackie" Blackstock, assistant Lou Lanier set a record themselves in running off the long list of contests without a miss. Amount of planning in these must be amazing. The school spirit at P.C. is wonderful to behold and competition keen for every point. Eight records fell and possibly more would have toppled except for the strong south-easter holding back the flying feet of the sprinters.

Bert Kellock, a speedster out of Ottawa, featured with five firsts in intermediate A. It's a treat to watch this spring step, loose joint chap take the hurdles at a record or near record clip.

Floodlights. No, we haven't forgotten them. Charlie Vanzant reports the fund is now at $1,275. The surface has just been scratched and we'll have those lights yet. Albert Topham is assistant number one and is a Brampton native and has the gen on the Brampton installation. Landed a good chap to look after the dough-re-me dept. in Ken Flett. Too busy to say anything about the secretary - but we'll do our best to get those lights.

Neismakers: You only had to lend an ear to the whoop and holler Monday at the S.S. flats to know the Town Leaguers are taking things seriously. "Join!" McComb's slick fielding side and name a wild flower. Handcraft demonstration by Mrs. D. Fowlston. Report of convention. Refreshment committee, Mrs. T. Lowndes, Mrs. W. Sedore and Mrs. S. Sedore.

The meeting of Sharon branch has been cancelled this week. Further particulars next week.

string of potential 950 hitters - pardon us, 500 hitters - bopped off Mick Smith's Bellringers. There's no truth to the rumor after the beating that Coach Smith has signed some ops to fight the battle from here on.

But to get back to the Town league, those box car scores will begin to fade now and you fans can start to look for some rousing scraps. The McComb-Keatsmen, the Triple sevens, look strong enough to cop the bunting with nifty fielding infield and strong swat corps, headed by Hack Cain, Joint McComb, Normie Legge and Harvey Gibney. We can feel our neck being tied in a knot now by Harry Boag, Alb. Topham, Pete Newfield and Peaches Vanzant for dropping the Specialty to second rung - a close runner-up that is. Have Hoffman's in about third and Bell Telephone fourth - quit twisting our arm Smitty, Atomics fifth and Smitty's Cyclamen for the present will have to stick to basement.

Long bases: Will the baseball cycle move in again? It would seem so. Hardly a tap of mush-ball will be played among the public school laddies. Every young nipper carting a glove around and doing what he ought to on the big diamond. Certainly more opportunities for the squirts to go places in hardball than in the short base game. Why North York doesn't organize its minor baseball, we'll never know. Potential league of Aurora, Richmond Hill, Markham, Stouffville, Sutton and Newmarket is there for the making. Can remember in days gone by, Len Simmons headed a strong circuit that included junior, juvenile, midget and bantam teams.

Frank Hollingsworth, who does more than anyone we know to keep the young nippers out of mischief in this respect, is worried about opposition for our minor teams. Frank says there is a need for a coach, manager and sponsor for a midget baseball crew. Any takers? The Optimist club is financing the pee-wees and bantams in O.B.A. as last year and doing a terrific job, by the way, but the financial drain is heavy and they can't assume the responsibility for a third crew. Anyone interested in becoming a Durocher can contact Mr. Hollingsworth for information on the subject.

Schomberg Lions Plan Busy Season At Park

The Schomberg Lions club parks committee has swung into action with the following events: June 7, an exhibition football game between Levy's and Peoples of the Kew Beach League. McCracken and Johnson will pitch. At a later date Levy's and B.A. (the old Tip-Tops) will perform. All fastball world championship calibre, these teams should draw a big crowd. Late in June, Sunnyside senior girls' teams will display their skill. Date to be announced later. We've never had the senior girls up here so let's turn out and give them a rousing welcome. July 19 and 20, the committee is working hard to put on an amateur Hill-Billy outdoor show in the park. To be preceded by a fascinating baby show, this entertainment should be a great drawing card. If you know of any talent, singers, tap dancers, yodellers, string instrumentalists, etc., please notify the parks committee: George Johns, Jim West, Ken Maynard, Bill Brendon, Ian Cooke. Send names of possible performers by July 1. We'll need your support and suggestions so proper auditions can be made. Keep your eyes open for announcements of special exhibition games between the Schomberg softball team and outside talent. There are several games in the offing.

Plan 4-Team Pee-Wee Loop For Newmarket

With out-of-town opposition practically non-existent, plans for a four team pee-wee town league baseball circuit are shaping up satisfactorily, reports Frank Hollingsworth. It is hoped to play all games at the fair grounds diamond on Saturday mornings. The pick of the crop will be weeded out to represent Newmarket in the O.B.A. playdowns come August. In bantam, one team will operate and Frank Hollingsworth is trying to line up opposition to get the team rounded into shape for O.B.A. competition. There are also enough midgets wanting to play baseball to come up with a good team. The pee-wee and bantam O.B.A. teams are being sponsored by the Optimists but the club is unable to take on the added drain on their finances of a third team. Anyone wishing to aid with a midget team or sponsor same should contact Mr. Hollingsworth. Phone number is 2.

High Scores Feature Lake Loop Openers

Scores were Queensville 23, Belhaven 22; Mount Albert 18, Hope 15; Zephyr 5, Willow Beach 3 as the Lake Simcoe league opened. Queensville "Realtors", last year's door mats, got away on the right foot with a seventh inning rally that overcame a 22-19 margin built up by Belhaven. Lon Ganton hit the triple with three mates aboard that killed off Belhaven. Bruce Greig laid down a perfect bunt to plate Ganton from his roosting place on third. All the Queensville kiddies had hits as they piled into Belhaven's Duff Sedore and Bernard Kay. Bob English punched out a bases loaded homer and Bruce Pegg also socked for the circuit. Other Realtors with perfect or near perfect marks were Bruce Greig, Doug Smith and Wilf Elsy. Judd Rutledge, Irwin Davidson and Bernard Kay carried the mail for the vanquished. Bruce Pegg worked three and Lon Ganton completed the winners' mound work. Walks and errors will stop you, Hope found to its sorrow Tuesday against the Mounties. Doug Eves, the starter, and Don "Lefty" Glover issued 12 free passes. Though out-hit by Hope 15-9, the Mounties made every score count. Hope finally got the range on Lorne Rutledge's heaves to finish strong with six runs in the sixth. Lorne Rutledge collected three hits and Elmo Paisley as well as getting in an effective outfield show drove out two base knocks to pace the Mounties. Ken Harman and Don Glover with a trio each and "Bun" Cook and Roy Eves with triples topped Bob Peter's Hope stick-workers. Cliff Ward completed the trio of Hope slingers, holding the Mounties to three runs and five hits over the four innings stretch he worked. Zephyr came up with a home win over Willow Beach 5-3, in a pitchers' duel between the Blues' Ron Kester and Beach's Cec McNeill. Ken Pickering put the sock in the Blues early 5-0 lead with a first frame triple that chased Bill Locke and Clark Arnold home. Don Cameron, Beach's oft disputed player, patrolled the centre-field pasture among the mosquitoes in mid-season form. Pete Jacobs lined out the hit that plated two of the three Beach tallies. Allan Locke came up with some nice short fielding for the Blues. Games coming up May 31, Queensville at Mount Albert; 31, Hope vs. Willow Beach; June 1, Zephyr vs. Vondorf; Pine Orchard vs. Keswick; June 4, Willow Beach vs. Queensville; Vondorf vs. Keswick; June 5, Belhaven vs. Zephyr; Mount Albert vs. Pine Orchard; June 6, Keswick vs. Hope.

LADIES OPEN TONIGHT

Newmarket Senior Ladies were scheduled for Midland Monday to open Barrie and District softball. Rain fell in the Georgian Bay district and Manager Frank Courtney was told the game would have to be postponed. The result is the local ladies will have a chance to start their season away before the home folks tonight (Thursday) at the S.S. diamond. Barrie Valley's defending cup-holders, will be the visitors. Game time is 7 p.m.

Home Teams Lose Openers In Peel-York

The home disciples had little to cheer for as home openers on two fronts were given attention Monday in the Peel-York softball circuit. A third curtain-raiser, that booked Nobleton to provide the opposition for Schomberg, didn't materialize as Nobleton has chucked in the towel. Pike Cabell's Schombergers will get going tonight (Thursday) under the lights with Pottageville and go again tomorrow evening with King City the opposition.

At King City the strong Woodbridge entry combined two big production innings, the third and seventh, for a 14-8 take home triumph. Woodbridge swingers caught up with Phil Hobson in the third for eight runs and got to his successor, Gord Orr, in the seventh for six. Outfielder Ted Rose and first sacker Chuck Shields carried the main firepower for the Kingmen.

Disaster struck Kettleby as Pottageville took full advantage of walks, errors and a flock of base-hits to carry away a 19-3 victory. Keith DeGeer's two-run homer in the fifth, Bill Gillham and Martin Wassink's socks that drove in two runs each, provided the sunshine in the Kettleby camp. Frank Maskoski and Don Munshaw shared the pitching loss.

RUTHVEN PRESIDENT

At the organization meeting of the Newmarket Senior Ladies Softball Club, the office of president was left vacant for the time being. That fault has now been remedied reports Manager Frank Courtney. Early Ruthven has assumed the duties of this office.

HASHMAN AWARD

With countless June brides taking the "catch of the season", seems only right we round up Ivan "Lefty" Gibson as our award winner this week on the basis of his "catch of the season" in the Friday town league fixture. "Lefty", after vacating the pitching hill for centrefield patrol, went away, away back, flung up his trusty left mitt and hauled down a high loft Jack Teasdale slammed up and away. Gibby, after snaring the pill, ended up with a somersault coming up still clutching the ball. It was one of those catches you had to see to believe. So— Ivan Gibson wins the pass to the Roxy theatre this week. Next weeks, who knows? It may be the sluggers' turn to crash through for the award, leastwise more returns will be coming in as most of leagues will be action this week.

A Word Or Two About Highlands

Aurora Highlands Golf Club is a mighty busy spot on the weekends and is fast being recognized as one of the smartest courses in the Toronto area. Week days find plenty of room for those who like to take their game more leisurely, and so far as Aurora-Newmarket membership is concerned, a record is likely to be set this year. Work on the 18 hole extension is progressing merrily and the Nisbet family will be able to take a well earned bow come late summer. On the 24th Harry Hoyd came home in front for the Jarvis Shield with a net 65, and Wil Preston was hot on his trail with a net 67. Competitions will get underway shortly. Oldest member of the club in terms of membership years is Dr. G. W. Williams who still shoots a fine game, and youngest member by way of age is Bill Shearson who is calculated to do well in the juvenile tournaments throughout Ontario this year. Club pro Charlie Warren is winning favor with all who meet him by his quiet manner, friendliness, and real ability as a teacher and player. Charlie can improve your game and straighten out those kinks that are bothering you. If you haven't been to the Highlands lately it's worth the effort purely from a spectator's viewpoint. Jack Andrews has signed with Masters of the Earlscourt circuit and not Kingsway Lumber as reported earlier. Aurora thus has two hurlers on the Maher

Three Sevens Silence Bell Cyclermen, Atomics Hit Hard

The Triple 7's, the Old Southenders, measured the undefeated Bell Telephone nine for their first loss 12-9 at the S.S. pastures Monday. The game had about everything. The 7's went after Bill "Hot Shot" Johnston, Bell's starting flinger, for five runs before Coach Mickey Smith lifted him and brought in Morley "Armitage" Cook. The Sevens added a run in the second and again in the fourth. Coach "Joint" McComb of the Taximen wasn't taking any chances and nominated himself to do the hurling. Morley Cook, opposition moundsman, gave him most trouble. Cookie tripled in the second for two runs and singled in the third for another pair to bring the score to 7-4. Both teams battled the side around in the fifth, counting five runs each. The Bell's came on hits by Don Smith, Mickey Smith, John McTavish, Bob Cody and Jack Smith for a temporary 9-7 advantage. It was short-lived. The Sevens smashed back in their half for five runs on a pair of walks, an error and consecutive singles by the big three Norm Legge, Joint McComb and Hack Cain. Joint McComb shut off the Bell hitters in the sixth and seventh.

Hits were 10-8 in Triple Sevens favor, Hack Cain leading their parade with four, Joint McComb nailing three and Norm Legge two. Don Brice collecting the other. Three shared the Bell show of stickwork with two each, Mickey Smith, Morley Cook and Bob Cody. Bell: W. Johnston, D. Smith, S. Evans, M. Smith, J. McTavish, M. Cook, J. Teasdale, B. Cody, J. Smith. Triple Sevens: A. McKnight, N. Legge, W. McComb, H. Cain, D. Brice, W. Robinson, H. Gibney, D. Baldson, J. Baldson.

BELL TAKES ATOMICS An eight-run attack via three errors, two walks and hits by Bill Johnston, Don Smith, Mick Smith and Jack Teasdale in the second enabled Bell Telephone to mop up "Pop" Holmes town Atomics 15-8 in the Town League Friday. The win, the Bellmen's second straight, gave them a temporary hook on town league top roost.

The Atomics got off with a three-run assault but that was the end of it. The heavy stick work of the Bell in the second sent Ivan "Lefty" Gibson, bothered with a sore hip, to the outfield. Vic "the breadman" Langford replaced him to end the Bell production line until the sixth when a high loft raised by Bill "Hot Shot" Johnston escaped Ivan Gibson and dumped four runs into the Bell kitty to settle the issue.

Mickey Smith was again the Bell's most potent batter going three for four with Don "Buck" Smith giving him a chase for top billing with two. Borden Blain, a newcomer with Atomics, cracked out two solid safeties as well as cutting a promising caper around the initial sack. Lyman Hall, Holmes' new back-stopper, was the other two hit man. The Atomics showed improvement. Bell: W. Johnston, D. Smith, S. Evans, M. Smith, J. Teasdale, M. Cook, B. Cody, I. Brown, D. Beattie, H. DeLaHaye, R. Parliament. Atomics: R. Eves, B. Blain, M. Taylor, J. Gibson, W. Smith, T. Tansley, J. Burke, L. Hall, A. Wilson, V. Langford, H. Mays.

SMOTHER CYCLEMEN

The Keats-McComb Southenders landed a sponsor last week just before hatching their town league campaign. It's the Newmarket Taxi and henceforth they'll travel under the Triple 7 banner. Reason for the move is obvious. They're going to have to have taxis to run out their base hits or drop dead from exhaustion. Wednesday they pounced on Ray Smith's unsuspecting Sports and Cyclermen with a flurry of base hits to crush them 25-1. The Triple Sevens unloaded runs in all but one frame. Jerry Hugo, with three base-circling clouts and a single, headed the stick parade in which all the Keats-McComb swingers shared. Hack Cain, Normie Legge, Joint McComb gave their batting averages a grand slam start with perfect or near perfect hitting marks.

Triple Sevens: E. Blaine, A. McKnight, W. McHale, N. Legge, J. Hugo, H. Cain, J. Baldson, W. McComb, W. Robinson, A. Dobbie, M. Koblick, R. Walker, D. Baldson, L. Firth, F. Palmer. Sports and Cycle: W. Ingram, R. Lee, F. St. Amant, D. Robb, J. Staley, R. Newton, J. Saunders, K. Ball, C. Troy, C. Richard, I. Bray, D. Bunn, H. Caradonna.

OPTIMISTS OUT

The Town League has settled down to a six-team circuit. The Optimist club, supposed seventh team, has withdrawn for lack of sufficient players. Any players with the Optimists will be allowed to perform with Ray Smith's Sports and Cycle Shop crew.

Three teams, Office Specialty, Bell Telephone and Hoffman filed their players lists with the executive Friday. The following were ruled eligible: Office Specialty: L. Blunt, B. Andrews, H. Boag, J. Glenn, B. Cook, D. Gibson, J. Hisey, V. Mosier, D. Burch, J. Sheddolwick, S. Winger, H. Brannmer, C. Vanzant, L. Waller. Bell Telephone: K. Wright, R. Cody, M. Cook, M. Smith, D. Smith, S. Evans, J. McTavish, J. Teasdale, W. Johnston, J. Smith, R. Parliament, C. DeLaHaye, J. Donaldson, I. Brown, D. Beattie. Hoffman: F. Dillman, W. Vanzant, K. Thoms, M. McDonald, G. Blight, J. Hamilton, I. Rud-dock, F. Daniels, L. Thoms, R. Smalley, S. Brymer, B. Ingledew, L. Woolven, D. Scott, H. Vanzant.

TO DRAW SCHEDULE

The Lake Simcoe Junior Ladies Softball League executive will meet Friday to draw up a schedule. Meeting is at 8 p.m. in the Keswick Memorial arena. All entries must be in the hands of the executive on or before that time. At a previous convence, five teams said they would enter, Mount Albert, Keswick, Newmarket and Sutton with Belhaven the fifth. Harts, W. McGhee, S. Aylett, H. Cain, W. Mundell, A. Childs, W. Richardson, D. McCloskey, A. Stephens, A. Wood, Merchants: C. Case, L. Phillips, A. Closs, Jr., F. Caruso, T. Cameron, P. McGuire, W. Fines, G. Edwards, D. Holman, D. Ferguson, F. Southwood.

Harts Stop Merchants In Aurora First

After a week's delay, the Aurora Town Leaguers opened Tuesday. The delay didn't seem to affect the batting eyes of Harts "Diamonds" who hooked and sliced their way to a 17-10 triumph over the Merchants. The Hartsmen bunched hits and walks for an end of the third 12-0 edge. It wasn't until the fourth the Storemen found the key to crack their string of goos eggs when Don Holman teeing off on one of Sid Aylett's Sunday pitches for a bases clogged four-sacker. Husky Charlie Case, making a return to the softball business, collected a couple of ringing hits. Walt Fines was the other Merchie to chew off a large hunk of the hit loot. Commuter Hack Cain and Bill Richardson, fast stepping Diamonds infielder, put the spark in the Hartsmen sock department, finding the south-paw slants of "Lefty" Phillips to their liking. Andy Closs, newly appointed Merchants boss-manager-coach, passing his verdict on the loss, reports "don't give up on us. We'll let the other team know we're around before the bunting's passed out."

Pickering Bats Out 12-5 Win Over Aurora High

A pile-driving finish that netted ten runs over the last three frames gave Pickering College softballers a 12-5 win over Frank Gregoire's Aurora high school in an exhibition game at Pickering Monday. Aurora out-hit Pickering knicking Don MacMillan for eight against seven against the combined chugging of Phil Hobson and Ken Ham. Collegians turned the tide with nifty fielding and timely slugging. Ab Underhill unloaded a three-run home in the fifth to wilt the early 4-2 lead manufactured by Aurora. Bob Staley was a two-hit man with Aurora and Ab Underhill turned in a similar trick for Pickering.

COUNCIL SIDELIGHTS

Caution Prevails As Mayor Rarin' On Parks, Gifts

The Oracle on Aurora's comic weekly "blew his top" last week and tried to scorch certain members of council with a blast of his hot air. The purpose of this appeared to be to hoist Mayor Bell on to a pedestal of favorable publicity. Mammoth headlines sprawling over seven columns were introduced by these words: "Mayor's Prodding Ineffective".

It seemed to us a good thing that certain members of council halted the mayor's impetuosity last week. It would have been a good thing if his impetuosity had been checked last summer, when he got so hot up on planning board by-laws. Mayor Bell is subject to spasms in civic work; and some of them are bad for Aurora.

At the last meeting of council his spasms swayed him towards accepting an offer of a little bit of land from Mr. Lorne Cousins. The mayor was convinced it would make a "nice little park". God knows there are so many little parks in Aurora that when summer comes around they are just bursting with weeds. Why add more little parks to the town to increase the number of weed and rubbish belts?

Seeing For Ourselves
Last week we visited the two pieces of land that council is being urged to add to the town properties. First we went to take a look at Mr. Ross Linton's property, which he has offered to the town at the price of $2,600. It stretches out in a little hollow below Tyler and Leper streets.

True, we saw a few nice trees there, a wooden bridge and a creek and some muddy water. It would provide a nice breeding area for groundhogs. But does the council wish to promote a groundhog industry? Unless it does it would be better to save the town the expense of paying out $2,600 for a piece of land that can serve it no foreseeable useful purpose whatsoever. At least those are our impressions of the scene.

Councillor Gundy reported that Mr. Linton requires council's answer not later than June 12. If we were a member of council we would tell Mr. Linton to keep his land, or sell it to somebody who badly wants it. We would not vote for one penny being spent from the town's exchequer to purchase such an out of the way parcel of land.

Councillor Gundy was back on the job again at the last meeting of council, like a persistent old-time auctioneer, talking about Mr. Linton's land. Let the groundhogs live their happy lives there, and save $2,600 of the town's money, even should it displease Mayor Bell.

Mr. Cousins' Gift
We looked at the little gnarled notch of earth which Mr. Cousins has offered to the town and which Mayor Bell thought could be turned into a "nice little park". It too has a little trickle of dirty water to add to its attractions.

Councillor Davies said the offer from Mr. Cousins had been "kicking around" council for about four years. Councillor Corbett said that if the "gift" were going to be used as a children's playground, it would cost money to put it in order, and there would be the additional cost of keeping someone there in the interest of the children's safety.

But the mayor repeated that it would make a "nice little park". Deputy Reeve Murray reminded the mayor that Mr. Cousins' gift would be costly to the town, since a condition of acceptance was that the town must maintain it.

We believe we are correct in stating that Mr. Cousins owns a number of acres of land, presently to be sub-divided, adjacent to the piece offered as a gift. In that case why doesn't the owner of the land himself maintain a "nice little park" for future residents?

If we were a member of council we would recommend that Mr. Cousins' offer of this gift of land (which looked to us like a bog) be graciously declined. Such a rejection might disappoint Mayor Bell; but he could always make an appeal to the planning board for another report. And the Oracle on Aurora's comic weekly could get out some more mammoth headlines to assist the "mayor's prodding".

Hell For Leather!
The mayor rushed to welcome the installation of meters as though they were a heaven-sent solution to Aurora's parking problem. He went for meters hell for leather. We haven't seen him so hot up since he rushed to get three readings on one night for the planning board's by-laws.

Now, meters may be a good thing, or they may not. But council was not in a mood to be rushed into this innovation without careful thought. And council was right. Reeve Cook, Councillors Corbett and Davies asked some pointed questions. But the mayor wanted the meters. And when the mayor wants something he talks and talks and talks.

The fact is, the mayor talks too much. He should remember that he is chairman of proceedings, not a talker on the loose. He should restrict his observations to a minimum. It is for council to decide, not the mayor. He cannot even vote except on a recorded vote. Then why doesn't he ration himself in this talking business?

What we hear is this: that if a number of Main St. merchants would stop the habit of keeping their own cars parked in front of other merchants' stores for hours at a stretch, the parking problem on Main St. would be greatly eased.

The Board of Trade
Months ago the august body known as the "board of trade" set out to solve the parking problem. The president came to council one night and asked that the press should not report what he had to say to council, as matters were then in a purely negotiatory stage. The press faithfully adhered to the request.

Then it was announced that the

DEBENTURES

Pay, pay, pay, wrote Rudyard Kipling many years ago. The citizens of Aurora are well-informed on pay, pay, pay. But whether they know why they have to pay is another matter. We think they should know. We wish we could enlighten them on all the details. But we can't. And for the simple reason that we don't know the ins and outs of these recurring debenture loans.

If we were admitted to the board meetings where these burdens are imposed on the taxpayers, we might be able to lighten our own darkness and the darkness in which the taxpayers painfully grope their way. There's the $250,000 public school debenture loan. On what will all that money be spent? We don't know. But we presume the public school board knows.

Wouldn't it be possible for the board to issue a broad statement of potential expenditures so that the taxpayers could get some understanding of the new tax burdens they are being called to shoulder? After all, this is public money taken out of direct and indirect taxation. Two hundred and fifty thousand dollars. Quite a lot of money. On what is it being spent?

Then the Hydro Electric Commission asks for a loan of $20,000 and gets it? Who will pay? The taxpayers of course. On what is the $20,000 being spent? We don't know. For the benefit of our readers, who are mainly the taxpayers, we would like to know. We would be glad to enlighten them in AURORA NEWS PAGE.

The chairman of the Aurora Hydro Commission frowns on the press. So far he has refused to have the press at Commission meetings. He went right off the beam in print when we mentioned the subject some months ago. But he will have to get used to it. For we are just at the beginning of our enquiries on hydro matters. We have a lot of questions still to ask, in the public interest.

THE METER PROBLEM

Aurora does not lack in new projects. Many of them never get beyond their initial stages, and others fall by the way in various stages of development. We have a large number of boards and organizations. They are constantly multiplying. At the present rate of hatching, the time will presently come when a statistician will be needed to number them.

The latest project to emerge from this prolific mental unrest is the one concerned with the proposed installation of meters. A petition containing the names of many merchants was presented to council at its last meeting. The petition favored the installation of meters. Council is taking time to consider the proposal, a safeguard it has not always practised in relation to more important matters, planning board matters to wit.

In order to gain further knowledge on this meter problem we canvassed the opinions of a few Main St. merchants. The impressions we have derived from this limited enquiry lead us to the conclusion that if the regulation concerning one hour parking on Main St. was faithfully observed the meter problem would disappear.

This disregard of the regulation limiting parking to one hour is not the fault of the police. If the police were given a clear and definite instruction to proceed against all offenders against the regulations, they would carry out their orders. But if the police have reason to believe that the authorities frown on too much insistence on the parking regulation, they cannot be blamed for an absence of parking tickets.

Double parking on Main St. is not only a nuisance, it is a serious hazard to life and limb. It should be eliminated without delay. The installation of meters will serve little useful purpose if double parking continues. Double parking is the really serious problem that needs to be solved.

SIGNED EDITORIALS

For many years a rule obtained in British newspapers of the first rank that all editorials had to be signed and printed with the writer's name shown. With the advent of British newspaper chains names of writers gradually disappeared and anonymity became the rule. We think the disappearance of names from newspapers was regrettable.

We think it is only fair to the reader that the authorship of editorial opinions should be disclosed. For one thing, the reader has a guarantee that he or she is not being palmed off with opinions incubated in the office of an agency that sell them in quantities to "editors" incapable of writing their editorials.

No editor worthy of the name will grab articles from other newspapers and reprint them as his own work. The best type of editor takes pride in his newspaper, and this pride expresses itself in a high regard for the good opinion of his readers. He would not think of insulting them by passing on to them the work of others, posing as their own.

The signed editorial takes care of all that. If the editor's name is printed on the editorial page, then readers have a right to expect that all editorials appearing thereon, unless distinctly acknowledged otherwise, are the work of the papers' editors. The acknowledgment of articles written by others is not only good ethics, it is merely simple justice to those who created the articles.

No honest editor writes articles merely to please readers. He writes them because he has something to say; something he believes to be true. Readers will respect a writer who expresses his own honest opinions, whether they agree with them or not. The first duty of an editor is to be honest in his relations with his readers.

KNOW YOUR MERCHANTS

Frank Teasdale

If background is a criterion of stability, as it so often is, then the grocery business on Wellington St. owned by Frank Teasdale is one of Aurora's chief historical landmarks. Mr. Teasdale has had occupation of the store for over 30 years; and before him in ownership were W. N. Scanlon, brother of the founder of the Aurora Scanlon store, Mr. Archie Murray, former reeve of Aurora, and Mr. W. McBride.

Frank Teasdale took over the store in 1920 and after more than 30 years' ownership will proudly tell you that he wouldn't trade it for any other establishment in Aurora. He has spent many happy years in his present location, and looks forward to a continuance of such a happy relationship between himself and his customers for many years to come.

Mr. Teasdale was born to the grocery business. His father, the late George Teasdale, and his mother had a general store at Laskay for 38 years. His mother is happily still surviving. Mrs. Teasdale, now in her 91st year, resides in Aurora and we are happy to add, is enjoying good health.

Early Beginnings

In his early years Frank Teasdale was employed in James Whimster's store on Yonge St. as manager of the grocery department. In 1916 he turned his attention to more serious duties, for in that year he enlisted in the mounted section of the Canadian Engineers, with which company he served for three years.

Returning to civil life, he once again took service with Mr. Whimster. In April of 1920 he took the venture of buying the business on Wellington street. As has already been clearly indicated, he has never regretted that important decision in his life.

Besides his business interests in the Whimster store, Mr. Teasdale found a greater attraction there. This attraction was Miss Elsie Wilkinson, member of an old Aurora family, who was also employed by Mr. Whimster, and culminated in their marriage over 30 years ago.

Winner of Silver Cups

Frank Teasdale has found time for many interests besides business. Especially is he fond of horses, and although he likes motoring he likes still better to get into the saddle.

A director of the Aurora Agricultural Society for many years, a cabinet in his store contains five silver cups which were awarded him for the best delivery outfit in the days when delivery of merchandise by horse and wagon anticipated the use of cars.

These triumphs of a departed era he speaks of with modest but justified pride, for he has a genuine love for horses.

Personal Interest

A charter member of the Aurora Lions club, which recently celebrated its seventh anniversary, Mr. Teasdale is also a past member of the Rising Sun Lodge, A.F. and A.M. He is also a member of Royal Arch free masonry.

A member of the United church, Mr. Teasdale is on the board of stewards.

Mr. and Mrs. Teasdale have a son, Barton, and a daughter, Emily, resident in Vancouver. Barton, a chemical engineer, is with the Canada Packers company.

Proof of Service

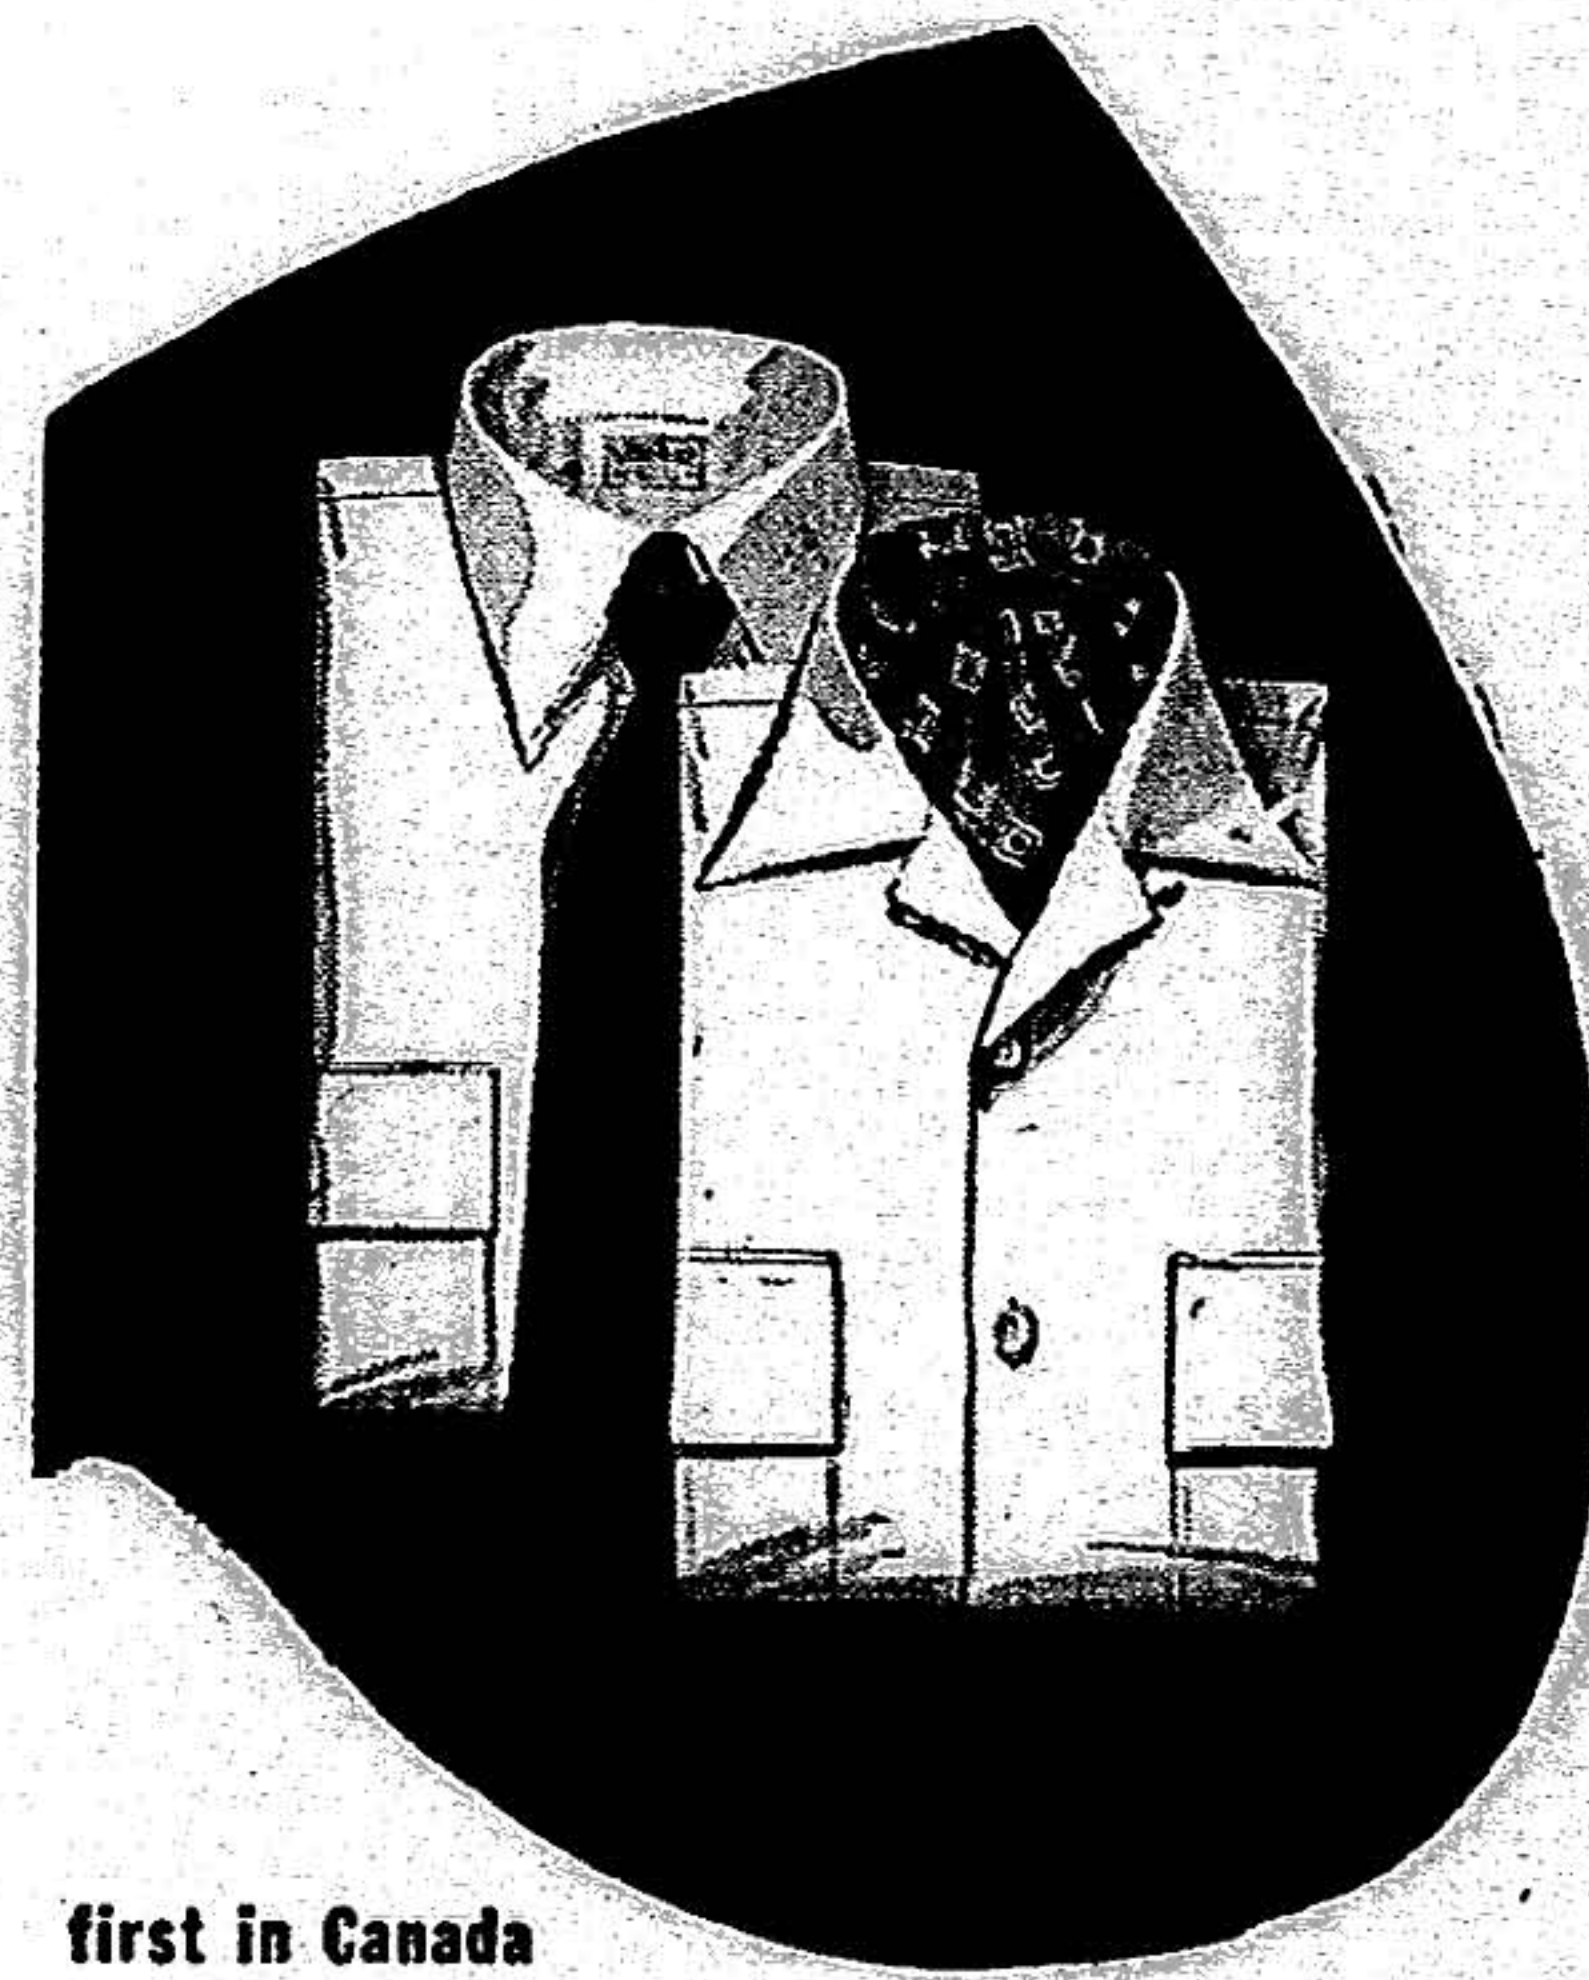

It has given us very great pleasure, to present this brief portrait of Frank Teasdale for readers of AURORA NEWS PAGE. The fact that Mr. Teasdale has successfully operated an individual store for the long period of more than 30 years is proof of the service he has given to his customers, in ever-changing economic conditions.

No man can continue in business for that length of time unless he has met the needs of the community he has served; and as an individual merchant we wish him continued success.

We take the opportunity of combining that business wish with the personal wish that Mr. and Mrs. Teasdale will continue to enjoy many years of happiness together. The Teasdale store on Wellington St. is another of Aurora's tried and tested institutions.

town was to hire a piece of land from the United Church at $150 per annum, a pretty good price we would say. All seemed merry as a marriage bell. Where council had failed, the mighty board of trade had succeeded.

But has it? "Not a single sod turned yet," said Councillor Corbett's acid comment. "It's coming along," piped the mayor. "But when?" retorted the tough Cliff. "It'll be alright," hummed the mayor.

We would ask this question: why should the board of trade have to take on the job of solving town problems. What's council for?

And hasn't the board of trade enough on hand to settle its own internal dissensions without taking on outside matters? Verily sap.

Planning Board Reports

This pussyfooting organization of busybodies, so dear to the heart of Mayor Bell, is now concerned with "considering a request for approval of a policy of sub-division of property on Wellington St. E., a quote from their present report, which we looked up at the municipal chambers. Planning board reports give one a crick in the neck.

Further quotes from the report: "The planning board recommends to council that in future development on Wellington St. they consider Wellington St. as an artery of 100' and therefore any building permits for houses be on the basis of 15' back from the 100' highway line."

"This would result in future set back of houses of 32' from the present street line."

Does it need a planning board, at a high cost to taxpayers, to tell council how to run the town? Another park! And another planning board report. The old subject of the proposed new park near the new district high school. Although the town has no money to spend on purchase of land for parks, here is the planning board report: "Having received the resolution from the town council of May 7, 1951, resolves that according to the proposal Aurora official plan as prepared by the board, there is no reason why the particular property should not be used for the purposes indicated and it appears that the property would be suitable for that use."

Cut Down Expenses

To acquire that further new park would cost the taxpayers nearly $6,000. The town just can't afford that money. Why, therefore, does it continue to flirt with the acquisition either of a new park at the south end of the town, or in any other part of the town? There are more parks now than the town can keep in order.

There should begin immediately a stern cutting down of expenses. At the beginning of the year the town had to borrow $60,000 in order to carry on, pending the collection of taxes. New expenses are projected. One item among these concerns the hiring of a third constable. The hydro is borrowing $20,000. The public school board is borrowing $250,000. Not long ago the high school area board borrowed $600,000. It will soon, at that rate, need a small wheelbarrow to contain the town's debture loans.

Where is all this borrowing leading? Just where is the town of Aurora heading, financially? In Conclusion

Concluding this week's Sidelights we give a word of praise to the majority of the members of council for the caution they exercised at their last session. The hot air released by the Oracle of Aurora's comic weekly did not scorch those wiser members of council who halted the mayor's hurry. And the plug which the Oracle appeared to want to give the mayor falls flat in the light of a little calm reasoning.

We shall be surprised if council proceeds to acquire any more "nice little parks", either by purchase or gifts. Meanwhile the weeds are growing bigger in the parks the town already has.

Diseases of the heart, considered as a group, have been the greatest single cause of death in Canada.

Question 2b Are you in favor of closing all day Wednesday and remaining open all other days except Sunday all year round?

Question 3 Are you in favor of closing at six p.m. Friday and nine p.m. Saturday evening?

Question 4 Would your decision on the above questions be materially affected if Newmarket and Richmond Hill were to come to a similar decision as Aurora?

Question 5 Would you rather continue as we are now, closing only Wednesday afternoon?

Question 6 Are you in favor of closing at nine p.m. Friday and six p.m. Saturday and not closing Monday or Wednesday?

A bulky questionnaire, it will be admitted. Our guess is that nothing will eventuate this summer, with the probability that nothing will eventuate at all.

Secretary of the Aurora fire brigade, Chester Osborne, has a very interesting and important historical record in his possession, no less than that of a small book convening the first meeting of Aurora's original firemen. The record is dated August 8, 1883, and states: "Meeting convened for the purpose of organizing a fire brigade of this village." Following the setting up of a fire brigade, there was presently a membership of 42. In those days, however, the setup of the fire brigade was primitive in character compared with present-day equipment.

John Bowser, Jr., and a few friends had a fishing expedition recently at Lake Nipissing and made a joint haul of 75 pickerel. The result in this instance appears fully to justify the means. No fisherman ourselves, but having heard much about fishing, we thought the above "catch" was worth putting on the record. Good fishing successes always are.

Burt Gilbert received a few days ago an honor of which he is rightly proud, namely, a certificate certifying his admission to the limited rank of a 32nd degree freemason.

Mr. Gilbert served in World War I as a private; in World War II as a major. His son, Anson, flight-lieut. in World War II, received the D.F.C.

Adding to his other material possessions, which includes a private lake adjoining his summer home, Mr. Gilbert has recently acquired an 85 acre farm on Wellington street.

Another acquisition Burt Gilbert has made, and one which we appreciate, is that of becoming a subscriber to the AURORA NEWS PAGE.

Don Glass tells us that the Band Display in the town park was a great success, attracting approximately 1,000 persons, men, women and children. Highlighting features were the attendance of the St. Andrew's Pipe Band and the Aurora High School Cadet Band. Nearly $100 was realized from the event, which will be used for playground equipment.

We went along the other evening to see W. H. Bell of Spruce street work on his private (Ham) radio, on which he has contacted other radio owners in most parts of the world. To own a private broadcasting system requires a certificate of qualification in the Morse Code, used by the broadcasters.

Mr. Bell has a log-book covering records of conversations over a great many years. This log-book record is a government requirement and must be faithfully kept. Many details must be entered into the log-book. To own a private radio station and successfully operate it is available only to a qualified few.

There has been persisting talk in town that Mayor Bell is part-owner of the "Aurora Banner". Unless such talk is true it is no more than rumour. We mention this subject of conversation to give the Mayor an opportunity of confirming or denying whether he has turned newspaper owner, in part at least.

We hold the not uncommon opinion that newspaper ownership should be a matter of public knowledge, since newspapers are a public commodity. Sometimes they are mediums of propaganda, and students of headlines can often spot the direction of their personal slants.

Speaking of the "Aurora Banner", we note that last week (May 24th) another unacknowledged editorial entitled, "All Through Your Life," helped to fill up the gaping columns. This is the second week in a row that editorials have been published therein without acknowledging their actual authorship. Without such acknowledgment "Aurora Banner" readers are inevitably being deluded into the supposition that the editorials are original work.

We insist that such importation of the work of others, without acknowledgments, is absolutely unfair to authors and Aurora readers alike. Such barefaced plagiarising is harmful to the standards of literary craftsmanship. At the above rate, the "Aurora Banner" editorial columns are becoming a mere dumping ground for editorials kicking around the countryside. "All Through Your Life" appeared in another weekly about a month ago.

Of course editorials this is what the editor of the Georgetown Herald, Walter Biehn, wrote: "Canned editorials are a backward step for the weeklies, which are already too prone to use filler material for their most important column. Bad as they may be, my editorials are 100 percent original."

The planning board "pussy-footers" are having another public meeting to have the map explained. More expense to the town; hire of hall and consultant's fees. Professional time $10 per hour; technical time $5 per hour. Quite a good sideline.

And what is there to explain? The consultant himself said recently: "There is actually little land left in the town for future immediate development." Then why all the bother?

We are advised by the secretary of the Aurora Lions club, Lion Wyatt Baldwin, from whom we made enquiries, that the annual festival in the town park was a great success. Presently the Lions club will be engaged on the task of putting their new property, the Mechanics' Hall, into shape by re-decorating, etc. The club will need all the funds it can get for the admirable work of preparing the hall for use as a Community Center.

Aurora high school athletes won the Eckhardt Trophy meet last Wednesday by a wide margin over Newmarket and Richmond Hill. Mrs. Jack Swindells thanked the singers and Mr. Fowler for their fine contribution to the program. The guest speaker, Rev. J. T.

Kingcraft Guild Hears Noted Danish Artist

"Kingswold", home of Sir Ellesworth and Lady Flavell, high above Kelley Lake, was the ideal setting for Mr. Thor Hansen, designer and interior decorator of the noted British American Oil Building, Toronto, to reveal to Kingcrafts Guild "Canadiana" in art designs and crafts. It was fitting on Citizenship Day, May 23, that Mr. Hansen, a native of Denmark, should tell the gathering that the expression of folk art in design is the natural right of every Canadian craftsman.

Mr. Hansen is on loan from the B.A. Company to Ontario for a year. His objective is to stimulate designs in crafts. Lady Flavell introduced him with reference to his rich contribution to "Canadiana" through the use of Canadian motifs and folk lore in decoration and design. "Although not born in Canada, Mr. Hansen caught a vision of the beauty of this country which many of us have failed to express," she said. "He has climbed the ladder of success the hard way but has never lost faith in beauty."

Art Design and Craft
"Arts and crafts are vitally important in human life; they are the only things we preserve as the expression of creative imagination, which in itself gives us status above the animals," declared Mr. Hansen. He spoke of the folk art movement which embraces all legitimate crafts to assure healthy, continuous growth in the fine arts of a nation; a movement that is giving Canadian folk art recognition, both as a desirable tourist attraction in many localities and a nation-wide cultural development.

"The search for beauty is the most important thing in the life of humanity," he said. "All our lives we look for something beautiful. No matter how low one sinks there is always that yearning." He called it the common denominator of the peoples of the world, first in the family, then in the community and the nation. Despite the search for religious and "isms", he said unity of beauty combines all people. Called culture, a term oftentimes misused, it is an artist seeking truth and God.

"Hands are the instruments that shape creative imagination," Mr. Hansen said. In pioneer days this imagination was, by necessity, constantly used. In today's machine age, the day of so-called time-saving gadgets, many do not know how to employ their leisure time. "If we can't have creative exercise in everyday work, we must have a hobby," he stressed. Arts and crafts can help out, he said, in the economy of a district like Tobermory, a four-month-a-year fishing village that has turned to weaving Scotch tartans. Midland, too, is working out a scheme whereby the "spirit of Georgian Bay" is producing cultural development and enhancing tourism.

Following the general meeting refreshments were served with Mrs. C. F. Johnston and Mrs. Loftus Jewett pouring tea. Other assisting were Mrs. Mel McCullum, Miss Doris Priestly, Mrs. A. Gillham, Mrs. Steve Ascott.

With the sale of crafts coming in October, Lady Flavell suggested group conveners line up exhibits to avoid duplication. Groups were requested to meet once a month during holiday period. The next meeting will be held at the home of Mrs. Jas. Baxter, June 21 (alternative the 22nd) in the form of a noon box-lunch picnic gathering, crafters to bring along their work. Those unable to go at the noon hour are welcome during the afternoon. It will be decided then if the Guild will affiliate with the Ontario Spinners and Weavers' Guild.

A fine display of hooked rugs, a scene, a small hooked footstool and some smoking were exhibited by members. Mrs. Hansen made favorable comment on the hooking, concerning the designs and the dyed materials from which they were made. Mrs. J. P. Norris, rugging convener, suggested that one designed to represent the "flowers of each of the ten provinces" would make interesting work.

The Common Round...

SERMONS IN GLASS

Wasn't it Shakespeare who said we could find "Tongues on trees, books in the running brooks, sermons in stones and good in everything?"

May I add my humble contribution—sermons in glass?

If you asked ten people what they first looked for on entering a church, I'm almost certain you would get ten different answers. Some people say that they are so accustomed to their church that they just sit down and don't look for anything in particular—they've seen it all so often. Some read the weekly calendar or hymns and some just relax and wait for the service to begin.

Then there are some people who get a new thrill everytime they enter a church. Personally, that is my attitude. I know I'm queer—I've been told so—too much imagination and a host of other too much!

But even an old soul has a right to an opinion. The first thing I look for is an altar with its cross and its flowers—the cross to remind us that Christ died for us—the flowers to remind us of the glories of the resurrection.

If there isn't an altar, then I look for the windows and their glorious colors and suggestive subject matter, satisfy some deep down want in my inner consciousness.

On Sunday mornings, in Trinity United church, the south windows, if the sun be shining, are breath-takingly lovely. There is one of an angel at the empty tomb. The face is angelic and the wings seem positively to glow and vibrate. One seems to catch a faint echo of the message "He is not here, He is risen!"

Then there is one with Christ as a shepherd, carrying the little lamb—the Lamb of God, carrying the helpless creature whose like was daily in the temple sacrificed for sin. Is there anything more comforting in the Bible than the thought of Christ as a Shepherd, and it is so often emphasized. And even before Christ, the Psalmist wrote the Lord is my Shepherd. When you look at this window you feel a sense of rest and relaxation—the Shepherd cares for the least of His sheep and your sense of unworthiness and fear drops away and you can almost feel those tender arms around you.

Then there is one lovely window which I have seen in many Roman Catholic churches and some Anglican—the Blessed Virgin and St. John beside the cross on Calvary. What mother love it brings to mind, what devotion, what faithfulness! Surely the sword that Simeon prophesied should pierce Mary's soul had done its terrible work.

Back to Trinity again, and eventually and now there is a window that lifts you in to the world of the spirit. It is a copy of Holman Hunt's Light of the World. "Behold I stand at the door and knock," it says and then one sees the unique thing about the window—the lantern is lit! Even in a soft, subdued light it glows with a golden lambency, but when the setting sun lights it, one feels it is helping Christ's eyes to seek out you! There is something of the supernatural Montmorency Falls in Quebec has the highest fall in Canada, 24 feet, which is nearly double that of Niagara.
